

SHAZAM

The main screen is quite minimalistic. The background color is a light gradient from bright blue on the top to slightly darker shade of the same blue on the bottom. Right in the middle of the screen there is a main button. It is a large round shaped call-to-action (CAT) button which is set off from the background by having a transparent round shape with an icon of the app itself in the middle. Above the main button a big and bold hint text “Tap to Shazam” lets us know how to interact with an app. Below the main button there is a similar, much smaller, transparent and round button containing a magnifying-glass symbol.

At the top of the screen on the left “Library” button, featuring a user icon and a music note, is located. On the right there is the “Concerts” button featuring a ticket icon. Right in between there are three small dots, indicating the position within the available app-screens.
